In Luke 9, when you draw a line from the opening verses to the closing verses, it gives us the pictures of commitment and non-commitment. In the first six verses, we see the picture of commitment. This is defined by disciples who receive the authority given them, accept the tasks of the mission and operate according to the specific requirements of the Master. The disciples were willing to put their comfort aside for the sake of the Kingdom.

Luke 9:1-6 - Summoning the Twelve, He gave them power and authority over all the demons, and power to heal diseases. Then He sent them to proclaim the kingdom of God and to heal the sick. "Take nothing for the road," He told them, "no walking stick, no traveling bag, no bread, no money; and don't take an extra shirt. Whatever house you enter, stay there and leave from there. If they do not welcome you, when you leave that town, shake off the dust from your feet as a testimony against them." So they went out and traveled from village to village, proclaiming the good news and healing everywhere.

In the closing six verses, Luke describes individuals who wanted the benefits of following Christ without the discomfort of giving anything up. They are distracted and fixated on the circumstances of their lives. The individuals described here make excuses for not being committed.

Luke 9:57-62 - As they were traveling on the road someone said to Him, "I will follow You wherever You go!" Jesus told him, "Foxes have dens, and birds of the sky have nests, but the Son of Man has no place to lay His head." Then He said to another, "Follow Me." "Lord," he said, "first let me go bury my father." But He told him, "Let the dead bury their own dead, but you go and spread the news of the kingdom of God." Another also said, "I will follow You, Lord, but first let me go and say good-bye to those at my house." But Jesus said to him, "No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for the kingdom of God."

What is the difference between the two groups? The disciples accept the instructions of the Master at face value. They are obedient and they trust the Master. The distracted want to follow, but they do not trust that God can handle the circumstances of their lives. The disciples put Jesus first, but the distracted put other things first. In our present time we are experiencing a lack of commitment in many areas. This lack of commitment can become airborne and affect the body of Christ. The verses above give an insight into possible reasons why. As I strive to be a committed follower of Jesus, I have to be willing to evaluate the degree of my commitment based on how much of my life am I willing to put into the Master's hands.

Welcome Guests!

We're glad that you are here! We hope that you experience the presence of God in our assembly.

During our Sunday morning services we do have a volunteer staffed nursery, for children up to age 3. There is also a training room, located next to the sound room, for parents with young children to use during any service.

If you have questions, feel free to approach one of our ushers, ministers, or elders. We hope that you will complete a visitor card, found in the back of our songbooks, and drop it into the basket when it is passed by. Thank you!

AM: Mutual Affection: A Family Value - Romans 12:9-11

We will continue our year theme series with a set of lessons on mutual affection. This phrase actually comes from the term Brotherly Love. The Family of God is more than a talking point in a sermon. Being part of the family means something. It takes on life when we love, care, laugh, and cry with each other.

PM: Growing up? Not Optional - Hebrews 5:11-14

Peter Pan Syndrome is a thing, according to Wikipedia, and several sociologists. No, it's not an actual psychological diagnosis (yet). It's a catch all phrase for people who refuse to grow up and take on adult responsibilities, and it's an all time epidemic in our country. It affects our churches as we clamor to find mature men and women to teach and lead.

*As I have loved
you,
Love one another.
