Truitt Adair is with Lakeview this morning, sharing the next chapter in the story of the Solar Player and bringing the sermon during our morning worship time. Being a missionary at heart, the Solar Player caught Truitt's attention and he immediately saw the benefit of such a device in the hands of a trained missionary. Here is a little of the back story to how the dream of the Solar Player became a reality.

About four years ago, Adair heard about solar players that were battery operated and the battery was recharged by the sun. These players were pretty large and had on them only the audio recording of the Bible. He thought that having players which could be recharged by the sun fit perfectly the many in Africa who are in areas without reliable electricity and for whom an audio Bible would be great because they cannot read. Yet, these were, he thought, too large and no instruction beyond the Bible could be placed on the players. So he asked the technical experts at Sunset to find a smaller and more versatile version and, after about a year, they did. The new players were solar, but were smaller and could have other materials inserted into the player. Sunset gave some trials of this unit and found that it worked very well, so they made a deal with Review Outreach in Atlanta to provide two-thousand Papyrus Solar Players for their use. On them they put the New King James Version of the Bible, 400 hours of audio covering the forty courses in training preachers which the Sunset Institute uses for their program, World Bible School lessons, two hours of hymns, and some additional resources.

The first 2000 Solar Players went to countries in Africa that have English as their official language. Countries including Zimbabwe, Ghana and Liberia. The next 2000 Solar Players went to Nigeria, Kenya, South Sudan, Zambia and Ethiopia. The Solar Players that were distributed in Ethiopia had materials available in Amharic, the language of that land. SIBI is in the middle of a third campaign to distribute Solar Players to Spanish speaking countries.

The cost of the Solar Player is $500.00 per unit. This covers the cost of the unit, the royalty for using the NKJV, putting additional materials on the player, cost of distribution and training. The investment continues to pay great dividends. The results from those who have received the players has been outstanding because they have brought many to Christ. One person alone baptized 113 in the first six months. Adair said it was like having "a missionary in a box, a library in a box, and preacher training school in a box." And, of course, many of those who were already Christians were strengthened by having these players with the audio material they contained. (Excerpts adopted from an article by Stafford North)

Welcome Guests!

We're glad that you are here! We have a staffed nursery available during Sunday morning service, for children up to age 3, if that is something that will be helpful to you. There is also a training room, located next to the sound room, for parents with small children to use during any service.

We hope that you experience the presence of God in our assembly. If you have questions, feel free to approach one of our ushers, ministers, or elders. Please fill out a visitor card, found in the back of our songbooks and drop it into the basket when it is passed by. Thank you!
