Welcome Guests!

*We're glad that you are here!
Please fill out a Welcome Visitor card and place in the collection
plate. Go by our welcome/information center (one on each side of the room) for materials that will better acquaint you with Lakeview.*

For your convenience, during our Sunday morning services we do have a volunteer staffed nursery, for children up to age 3. There is also a training room, located next to the sound room, for parents with young children to use during any service.

If you have questions, feel free to approach one of our ushers, ministers, or elders.

Sermon Summaries

AM: Identity Theft - Lamentations 1:1-14

Identity theft is big business. 16 Billion was transferred into the hands of thieves last year and it seems that it's going to continue to be a growth industry as our personal information is as attainable as a google search. This is not a new tactic for the enemy. He has been trying to get us to forget who we are for generations.

PM: You Did What? – Hosea 1-3

Sometimes God's people get overwhelmed by life and distractions and can find themselves accepting lifestyles and actions that were once defined as sin. The transgressions become the normal way of life. When this happens, God, in His grace, sends a message of hope surrounded by chaos. In it we find our way home.

Children's Program

We are looking for individuals & congregations to help with the children's program. There are 6 sessions, 2 per day, approx. 3 hours each. We need people in the following areas: snacks & drinks coordinator, song leaders, lesson leaders, craft planners, puppeteers, story tellers, and assistants for playtimes & crafts.

Contact Guy Gilbert at 509-387-6688 (call or text), or email quyara76@msn.com.

Three Kinds of People

There are three kinds of people in the world. The first class is of those who live simply for their own sake and pleasure, regarding man and nature as so much raw material to be cut up into whatever shape may serve them.

In the second class are those who acknowledge some other claim upon them—the will of God, the categorical imperative, or the good of society—and honestly try to pursue their own interests no further than this claim will allow. They try to surrender to the higher claim as much as it demands, like men paying a tax, but hope, like other taxpayers, what is left over will be enough for them to live on. Their life is divided, like a soldier's or a schoolboy's, into time on parade and off parade, in school and out of school.

But the third class is of those who can say, like St. Paul, that for them to live is Christ. These people have rid themselves of the tiresome business of adjusting the rival claims of self and God by rejecting the claims of self altogether. The old egoistic will has been turned around, reconditioned, and made into a new thing. The will of Christ no longer limits theirs; it is theirs. All their time, in belonging to Him, belongs also to them, for they are His.

Because there are three classes, any merely twofold division of the world into good and bad is disastrous. It overlooks the fact that the members of the second class (to which most of us belong) are always and necessarily unhappy. The tax which moral conscience levies on our desires does not in fact leave us enough to live on. As long as we are in this class we must either feel guilty because we have not paid the tax or poverty because we have. The Christian doctrine that there is no salvation by works done to the moral law is a fact of daily experience. Back or on we must go. But there is no going on simply by our own efforts. If the new Self, the new Will, does not come at His own good pleasure to be born in us, we cannot produce Him synthetically.

The price of Christ is to want Him. It is true that the wanting itself would be beyond our power but for one fact. The world is so built that, to help us desert our own satisfactions, they desert us. War and trouble and finally old age take from us one by one all those things that the natural Self hoped for at its setting out. Begging is our only wisdom, and want in the end makes it easier for us to be beggars. Even on those terms the Mercy will receive us.

Family News

Free sofa, ottoman, and rocker. You haul.
Contact Rich or Karen Clevestine for details at 253-531-1919.

Dear Church family, thank you for everything you have done for me during my illness, like visiting me in the hospital and at home. Bringing food to my house, sending get well cards and most of all, saying prayers for me. May God bless you always for your kind and caring hearts. Love in Christ, Wilhelmine Conner

Ladies' Prayer Fellowship will be on Feb. 11th starting at 10am. We urge your participation in this important time of prayer. Please come and bring someone with you.

There will be a special reception honoring the years of service given by Al and Carol Robison on Feb 12th, following evening service.

Lakeview is officially on the calendar on Dave Ramsey's website. Class starts February 26th, from 1-2:30pm. We will meet every consecutive Sunday until April 30th. We will not meet on one Sunday, March 13th, when the building will not be available.

You can go online and purchase a membership kit (~$90), or, if you are already a member, there is no new fee for enrolling.

You can order your materials online, or order them through Ben Cook. If you're on the fence about attending, you can attend the first class for free, then decide to pay for membership to continue.

Also, sometimes spending a hundred dollars for this material can feel like it's out of reach - especially if cash is tight and you're living month to month. For our Lakeview members, I will try to get creative about finding funding, if it's needed. So please let Ben know if this cost is an obstacle.

Our food pantry and clothing room will be open to serve the community and our church beginning on Feb 6th. We'll be open each Monday (except holidays) from 11:00am – 2:00pm. We need your help in this ministry, with on-going donations of food and clothing.

We will run a list of foods needed. The current suggested food items are:

canned fruits / veggies *peanut butter *cereal / oatmeal / rice *spaghetti sauce *canned tuna / salmon

Please put donations in Mr. Munchie, the dark blue Rubbermaid bin, in the southeast corner of the auditorium. If you have questions, please see Janice Otte or Becky Russell.

Prayer Requests

Is anyone among you suffering? He should pray. Is anyone in good spirits? He should sing praises. -James 5:13

- * The Graves family is asking for prayers for their grandson who is sick with asthma and a high fever. Also, for Lanetta who had rotator cuff surgery this past week.
- * Charlotte May is requesting prayers for her son James Monarco; James is being referred to oncology for a lump in his neck. He is also dealing with heart problems as well. He only has 10% of his heart functioning.
- * Bob Hanson is requesting prayers for Jeri King, from Orchard Street, who had a heart attack. Doctors put in a stent but her heart muscles are not working.
- * Terry Moore is in UW hospital with stage 4 colon cancer.
- * Stephanie Brewer and many others as they are trying to recover from the flu.
- * Briana Brewer is requesting prayers for the Sartor family whose son, Harrison, needed open heart surgery soon after birth.
- * Bob Bowers' sister, Carolyn, has been diagnosed with a brain tumor and she had surgery. Please keep her and their family in your prayers.
