Welcome Guests!

We're glad that you are here! Please fill out a Welcome Visitor card and place in the collection plate. Go by our welcome/information center (one on each side of the room) for materials that will better acquaint you with Lakeview.

For your convenience, during our Sunday morning services we do have a volunteer staffed nursery, for children up to age 3. There is also a training room, located next to the sound room, for parents with young children to use during any service.

If you have questions, feel free to approach one of our ushers, ministers, or elders.

if not,
He is still good.
daniel 3:18

People seem to be confused and angry about the seemingly random acts of violence that take place, not just in this country, but around the globe. As one person shakes their head in disgust, another nods in comprehension. The nod reflects an understanding that this world is under the influence of the evil one, but not without hope. The person who turns to Christ in sincere and authentic faith has been released from the bondage of the evil one. The heart breaker in all of this is that most (see Matthew 7:13-14) don't know the difference between the influence of evil and the freedom that is in Christ. Instead they follow their own ideas or the ideas of false prophets. When life falls apart, they can't even discern the reasons for the problems, and continue in the folly of their ways. As long as we live in a world that rejects the message of Christ en masse, we will experience pain and loss.

Those of us who follow Christ, should be those who nod in comprehension. Because of that we live lives that reflect a growing experience with the ethic and values of Christ. We understand the world in its evil, but we don't have to compromise or join with them. (That is what the nation Israel consistently did).

As disciples of Jesus we have a role in the minimizing of the violence in our world. It stems from our own conduct as we interact with individuals in the places of life that we occupy. We have a unique perspective because of our status. This is described in Psalm 112:1-10. We are described as righteous by the Psalmist. Because we have been elevated to this status by the blood of Christ, we are uniquely qualified to be ambassadors of peace. We interact differently with people. We will have a positive point of view. We will have a ministry to the poor and our deeds will be remembered. Whatever injustice we perceive, in the end, all will be made right.

Don't worry about things you cannot change. Give your heart fully to the things you can.

-Dennis

The Lens of Grace - Romans 5:15-16

As agents of God's reconciliation, it's important that we see people through God's eyes. Last week we looked at how our neighbors are the objects of God's love and as a result, they are the mission. This week we will look at how we view each other in the church. We are not righteous because we have earned it, we are not righteous because we live it, and more than anything, we need to view each other through the lens of God's grace.

Does God Even Care? – Habakkuk 1

One of the main critiques of Christianity, by cultural voices, centers around the idea that God seems indifferent and inconsistent in His dealings with people. We assume that God is like us or that we are god-like, and would do things differently. Habakkuk thought that as a prophet he would have some insight about the mysterious ways of God, but he came to a different conclusion as he interacted with God.

We are working on providing security for our assemblies. Starting Nov. 5th, Lakeview will plan on only having two doors open for you to enter as you arrive for services on Sunday or Wednesday. Over the next several months, you can expect to enter Lakeview through one of two doors: (1) The door adjacent to the foyer, and (2) the west kitchen door entrance. 15 minutes into worship, we will reduce this to the single foyer entrance.
